

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 14, 1901

Gov. ODELL, of New York, on Satuaday vetoed the employers' liability act, a measure supported by some labor organizations and opposed by others. This very matter has been before the Virginia legislature at each session for some years and is now a factor in the approaching gubernatorial election. There are two sides to this like there are to most other questions, and those who have to settle it should not be carried away by demagogery. Of course, if an employee of a company or a corporation should be injured while at work he receives the sympathy of his friends and is entitled to damages if the company is at fault, but should two men be working together for the same company and one be injured through an unwitting mistake of the other, there would be no justice in a law which would hold the company resposible for the one man's mistake or the other's injury. It will be remembered that when such a bill was before the Virginia Senate a few years since it was ginia Senate a few years since it was stilled by a pointed quastion put by the who have to settle it should not be carginia Senate a few years since it was ginia Senate a few years since it was killed by a pointed question put by the The Washington relies which

Men and women are apt to go wild at times, but dealers in stocks or bonds, or in corn or wheat, have no right to sell what they have not, and if some of the "cornerers" were mulcted for heavy damages only once it would be a long time before they again indulged in these games and the gambling spirit would be decidedly checked.

Mrs Carrie Nation at Wichits, Kas., made another attempt last night to smash a saloon and was only prevented from doing so by the arrival of a police officer, who disarmed her and sent her home. Mrs. Nation has ceased to be funny and if she is insane she should be cared for and put out of the way of doing harm by her friends or the authorities of Wichita. Many people, however, are of the opinion that she seeks only notoriety and that a well administered spanking would do more good than anything else.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

New York, May 14.—The stock market was irregular this morning on a much lighter volume of business than prevailed previous to last Thursday's break. The speculation was without pronounced feature. In governments new 2s were up ½ per cent.

A fresh spasm of liquication struck the stock market after 11 o'clock today, Brisk selling caused sharp declines. After noon there was a general rally but the losses in the sudden slump were not entirely recovered. At 2 o'clock almost the entire list was below opening prices. Union Paoific stock was a sensationally weak feature in the stock market this afternoon. At 2:30 o'clock is had fallen to 103, a net loss for the day of 15 per cent.

CITY GAS OFFICE,

Rooms Not. 6 and 6, City Hall,
Alexandria, Va., May 14, 1901.

As I am compelied to make up my accounts for the fiscel year ending May 31, 1901, it has become my daity to make immediate efforts to collect all outstanding bills. I therefore notify all gas consumers whose bills are not paid by 4 o'clock p. m. on FRIDAY, May 31, 1901, that the meters will be at once removed from their premises and the supply of gas cut off and the collection of all outs'anding bills enforced. The attention of gis consumers is called to the following law:
An act to reduce the price of gas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the City Council of Alexandria, Virginia, That from and after the 1st day of June 1899, the price of gas shall be reduced to $1.30 per 1,000 feet, with 10 cents discount upon each 1,000 feet, of the gas shall upon each 1,000 feet, with 10 cents discount upon each 1,000 feet, with 10 cents discount upon each 1,000 feet, of the gas shall cut off the upply of Gas.

As the law gives me no authority to grant any indulgences, I must insist upon a prompt settlement of gas bills.
